If you answered yes to any of these questions, you may have experienced a previous life.

Reincarnation explains many of the mysteries of human existence. Some of us are born with remarkable gifts.

We return to Earth time and time again, driven by love, vengeance, passion, or greed. And each life leaves its mark on us, even if we lose most of our memories as our souls are transferred from one living body to the next. If you believe that you may have lived before—or if you're interested in learning more about reincarnation—we urge you to contact the Ouroboros Society today.

History of the Ouroboros Society

The Ouroboros Society was founded in 1923 by August Strickland, Professor of Theology at Columbia University. Dr. Strickland's interest in the subject of reincarnation dated back to his days as a student at the university. However, after the deaths of his wife and children during the flu pandemic of 1918, the study of reincarnation became the focus of Dr. Strickland's life. He used his family fortune to create the Society, and he housed the organization in his own mansion opposite Gramercy Park in Manhattan.

One of the only private clubs in 1920s Manhattan to boast members of both sexes and all races and religions, the Ouroboros Society was open to anyone who believed he or she had led multiple lives. Today, we've learned how to weed out pretenders, but August Strickland's Society was a ragtag bunch.

There were members who were merely interested in the subject of reincarnation, and there were those who possessed great talents that had accumulated over dozens of lives.

Under new leadership, our membership became increasingly selective. Over the last ninety years, we have developed an excellent system for identifying individuals who are not new to Earth, and we look for applicants who possess great talents or potential. Those who are invited to join the Society quickly learn what it means to be one of the Eternal Ones.

We never publicize our membership, but today, under the guidance of our President Padma Singh, the Ouroboros Society is home to some of the most famous business people, scientists, artists, and politicians in the world. Join us and discover all the benefits of membership!

Testimonials

Genevieve:

"When I first read about the Ouroboros Society in the book, The Eternal Ones, I must admit I was skeptical. Today I'm so glad I took a chance and paid the OS a visit. My siblings used to tease me whenever I mentioned my previous life as a world-renowned diet guru. I have a new family now I can trust with my secrets—and the financial support I need to spread the good word. Thank you, Ouroboros Society!"

Mika:

"When I was just a baby, I could sing songs in Hindi. My parents had no idea what I was doing until someone on the street told them I was singing the title song of a famous Bollywood musical. That's when they took me to see the people at the Ouroboros Society. Padma and the others helped me discover the source of my talents and abilities. And I owe all my success in this life to them."
